SHELLEY SUCCEEDS MILTON

STARTING TROUBLES AT CHURCHILL DOWNS RESULT IN A RESIGNATION.

Associate Judge Takes Up Task of Dispatching Fields and Makes a Promising Beginning-Another Raise in Purses.

Louisville, Ky., May 25.—Interest in today's racing at Churchill Downs mainly centered in the work of William Shelley, who succeeded James Milton as starter at short notice, due to the latter's resigna-starter at short hence, due to the fine.

Feeling that he was unable to do himself or the public justice on account of the walk-up system. James Milton forwarded the following letter last night to the executive committee of the New Louis ville Jockey Club, tendering his resignation:

"To M. J. Winn, Manager Churchill Downs, Louisville—Dear Sir: I herewith tender my resignation as starter for the New Louisville Jockey Club. I am satisfied that this course is due not only to the club but to the public and to myself. I have tried hard, but fortune and the limitations put upon me by the rules of the racing commission have been against me, I believ a starter should be permitted to employ the methods which may achieve the best results, whether ir be with a wak-up start, a standing start, with or without whips, or whatever else may serve to acquire a good start.

"Early in the meeting, you will remember, I informed you that I could not effect good starts with the walk-up system, and I tendered my resignation, but to oblige you I consented to continue. I have done so, but, unfortunately, I have had no success, and I feel that I should no longer embarrass the could, and I have not wittingly given anyone either the best or the worst of it.

"I thank you for your kind consideration and hope my successor will have better luck than I. Very truly yours.

"James Milton."

Later a meeting of the executive committee of the Jockey Club was held and the resignation of Mr. Milton was accepted. W. H. Sheiley, one of the associate judges, who has had previous experience in that capacity, assumed the duties of starter today.

Mr. Shelley's work at the barrier, considering the circumstances, was excellent and promises success. Mr. Shelley disregarded the state commission's rule regarding the use of whips by his assistants. His helpers plied the whip when it was necessary to control a fractions actor or keep him in line. Mr. Shelley wasted but little time at the barrier in the sent the quartet of starters off on even terms was liberally applauded.

The scratching of Colloquy, King's Daughter and Imprudent necessitated the declaring off of the bandicap, originally intended as the feature, as the rules require four starters where the added money of the purse is $600. A race at three-quarters of a mile, for platers, was substituted for the handicap.

bandicap, originally intended as the feature, as the rules require four starters where the added money of the purse is $600. A race at three-quarters of a mile, for platers, was substituted for the handicap.

Improved weather brought out the full quota of race-goers. The most important race on the card was the third, in which only four starters contested. Hanbridge was considered vastly superior to those engaged with him, and was installed a big favorite by the speculators. He made good in decisive fashion by assuming the lead when called on and won with much in reserve from Bonnie Bard. Tom Hayward landed a distant third and does not appear to be in his best form.

Announcement was made today by General Manager M. J. Winn that beginning Monday no purse will have a less value than $500 in added money. The announcement came as a surprise to the horsemen and the association's action was commended. It is the aim of those having charge of the racing here to make Churchill Downs rank with the most pretentions courses in the country, and they will from time to time add liberally to the stakes and purses. It is the aim to attract the best horses to these parts, and with this in view plans are being formulated for several handicaps, to be run next season, on the lines of the Brooklyn, Suburban and Brighton.

Starter Shelley strengthened his corps of assistants by the employment of Tom Brown, who assisted Mars Cassidy at Juarze last winter.

In accordance with a recent announcement, the total number of sigures. The number of, tickets sold at $10, $5 and $2 straight, place and show were recorded on all the starters.

J. B. Respess purchased today the two-year-old, Fornehad, from John Morris for the reported price of $1,500. He will run in the interest of his new owner in tomorrow's stake race.

Pat O'Donnell, a bookmaker's clerk, formerly, in the emoloy of Barney Schreiber, is reported dangerously ill with pneumonia at a local hospital.

William Shelley, who succeeded James Milton as starter, was reluctant to accept the directors.

After her defeat in the opening race, Star Venus, which finished third, was claimed for $850 by K. Spence, owner of Yankee Pooh.

One of the $5 straight pari-mutuel machines has been changed to a $2 device, thus reducing the $5 machines in operation to three and increasing the $2 devices to two.

machines in operation to three and increasing the $2 devices to two.

E. R. Bradley will go to Idle Hour Farm Saturday to rest a few days before the Latonia meeting. The Bradley string will be shipped to the Kenton County track as soon as the meeting closes at Charchill Bowns. This will be the first season for Mr. Bradley at Latonia.

Ed Trotter will ship to Fort Erie at the close of racing here.

OAKLAND FAVORITES IN ECLIPSE.

San Francisco, Cal., May 25.—The feature race at Oakland resulted in one of the closest finishes of the season, Bit of Fortune, Jim Gaffney and Goldinn being noses apart. Goldfinn starting for the first time in colors of a new owner, got away flying, but Vosper hustled her along too much and she began to quit in the final hundred yards and the others passed her.

Favorites again fared badly. Jahnsen, who is coming into the limelight, carried off the honors by riding two winners. Roy Junior, backed from 15 to 1 to 8 to 1, got up to win by a head from Billy Myer, thanks to Vosper's outriding of Kirschbaum. Pearl Bass took the two-year-old race from Clara Hampton, poorly handled by Kirschbaum. Milpitas and Anne McGee were two winners that led all the way. Dovalta proved a surprise in the last.

led all the way. Dovalta proved a surprise in the last.

Hector has been sold to C. M. Kilpatrick and Ormonde Cumningham to Murphy & Blakeley.

Barney Schreiber will proceed to his Missouri farm at the close of the Oakland meeting.

TORONTO'S ENTICING STAKE PROGRAM OF TODAY

The Ontario Jockey Club does nothing by halves and today presents a program worthy of any track in America. No less than four well-endowed stake races are set for decision, the Victoria Stakes, for two-year-olds, at five furlongs; the Queen's Hotel Cup, for three-year-olds and over, at a mile and seventy yards; the Woodstock Plate, for three-year-olds, at a mile and an eighth, and the Woodbine Steeplechase, for four-year-olds and over, at two and a half miles. The most important of the four is the Woodstock Plate. With its $2,000 added money it is the chief event of the meeting for three-year-olds and should be productive of a capital race in all respects. At is a long-established race, being run for the twenty-sixth time this afternoon. In its list of winners such excellent racers as Banjo, Coquette, Boanerges, Gold Car, Advance Guard, Sannazarro, Claude, Fort Hunter, Tongorder, Mainchance and Guy Fisher are included. The Woodbine Steeplechase is also an old-timer, having its twenty-ninth running today and numbering among its winners many of the highest-class jumpers of past years. The records of the four stakes are as follows:

CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE VAN CORTLANDT HANDICAP

At Belmont Park this afternoon the Van Cortlandt Handicap will be run for the fourteenth time. It was first run at Morris Park in 1897 and was taken over to the Belmont Park list of annual fixtures when the Westchester Racing Association moved from Morris Park to its present magnificent racing ground. Heretofore it has been a dash of seven furlongs, but this year the distance has been increased to a mile. It has always been contested by very fast horses and for this year many of the best in training have been nominated. The record of the event is as follows:

LOUISVILLE'S STAKE RACE FOR THIS AFTERNOON

The Juvenile Stakes, for two-year-olds, at five-eighths of a mile, under selling conditions, will be run at Churchill Downs for the twelfth time today. It has usually failen to a useful racer and in after years Mazo, Right and True. Wing Ting and Honest more than confirmed the promise made when as two-year-olds they carried off the honors of the Juvenile Stakes. Winning form is well represented in its list of probable starters today and the finish should be well contested. The race was not run last year. Its lest winner prior to this year, Miami, showed so well in preliminary training last year that he was a highly-esteemed candidate for the Kentucky Derby and showed excellent form in running second to Wintergreen. JACK ATKIN IS UNLUCKY

Takes Liverpool Cup.

Toronto, Ont., May 25.—Barney Schreiber's great sprinter, Jack Atkin, has come to be one of the most unfortunate horses on the turf. He has been beaten in several of his starts of late as a result of poor luck at the barrier. Today he again met defeat in a race which he would unquestionably have won with an equal break. Jack Atkin was meeting a band of good sprinters in the Prince of Wales Handicap, the feature race of the program offered at Woodbine this afternoon. He was ridden by W. R. Walker, carried 139 pounds, and was a heavily-backed favorite. The start found Jack Atkin standing flat-footed, and he was virtually left at the post. John Griffin II., off in a forward position, dashed to the front and opened up an easy lead, showing extreme speed in going the first quarter in 23 and the half in 46½. This was a terrific clip. considering the condition of the track. In the meantime Jack Atkin was lumbering along in the rear, and not until rounding the far turn did he begin to improve his position. Entering the homestretch jockey Walker took him to the outside and he closed with a great burst of speed, gaining on the leader with every stride. Considering the disadvantage that he suffered at the start Jack Atkin's effort was really a wonderful one.

The condensed history of the Prince of Wales Handican is as follows:

There were two other stake events on the card, the Coronation Stakes, which called for Canadian-bred two-year-olds, and the Liverpool Cup, calling for Canadian-owned three-year-olds and upward. Jockey D. McCarthy, a Toronto lad, rode the winner in each of these races. The former proved an easy thing for Satin Bower, which made a runaway affair of the race, while the Liverpool Cup furnished a splendid contest, in which the Meddler colt, Detective, under 131 pounds, got up in the last few strides to win going away by a length. Don Antonio, recently purchased at a stiff figure by R. J. Mackenzie, was second and Busy third.

Former jockey Edward (Snapper) Garrison came on from New York to see his filly, Miss Popular, run in the sixth race, and he had the satisfaction of seeing her win from Clem Beachey after a stirring stretch drive, in which she showed to advantage.

BALLOT AGAIN IN WINNING FORM.

Keene Crack Wins at First Asking After His English Campaign-King Olympian's Pocantico.

New York, May 25.—James R. Keene's Ballot made his first appearance since his return from England in the mile and a sixteenth handicap at Belmont Park today, and the manner in which he performed makes it a pity that he was early declared from the Brooklyn. The handsome big chestnut was never let down at any time to win with riddelulus ease under 127 pounds. The opposition was not fornidable, but Ballot's performance was truly impressive on account of the manner in which he romped along with an ability to go to the front at any stage of the running. Notter rode him and it is probable that Butwell, who is under contract to the Keene stable, will not be seen in the saddle on the Keene stable, will not be seen in the saddle on the Keene horses for some time at least. Trainer Rowe was incensed over the ride Butwell gave Grasmere in the Withers, and at that time said he would never ride another horse for Mr. Keene. Today's substitution of Notter indicates that at present Butwell is on the ground so far as the Keene stable is concerned.

The Pocantico was the stake of the day, but was overshadowed by the re-appearance of Ballot. In this stake the only starters were Candleberry and King Olympian. The Wilson three-year-old was always the favorite, and his defeat makes it certain that he will not do among the top-nothers of his age. Mr. Wilson had some consolation in the vietory of Naushon, his two-year-old half-forther to the good mare, Gunfire. He made a show of Pluvious and August Belmont's Minta in the four-und-a-half-furlongs dash.

Distance one mile and a sixteenth prior to 1999.

The Newcastle Stable showed a promising filly when Herodia, a daughter of Adam and Wild Thyme, cantered in in front in the race for maiden fillies. In the last race, Everard broke away from jockey McCahey on the way to the post and ran away three and a half miles before he could be controlled. He was then ordered withdrawn and the field was dispatched without him.

G. Garner was at the track today on crutches. It was his first appearance since he was hurt when riding Pretend recently.

Duke of Ormonde is a sure starter in the Belmont. Today he cantered a mile in 1:48\(\frac{2}{3}\) as part of his preparation. Grasmere and Sweep both went along for an easy mile and an eighth in 2:02.

The Assembly Rules Committee has reported out the Agnew anti-oral betting bill, which makes one guilty who engages in bookmaking with or without writing. Distance one mile and a sixteenth prior to 1909.

"The tout told the judge that now that he had married the jockey's mother, he had necessarily become the father of the boy and, as such, would colect the boy's carnings and also arrange about his riding engagements from that time forward. Also he wanted the moosey the judge was holding for the boy. The judge looked at the half-drunken pair and at the innocent youngster whose capacity for carning money was so great, and then he read a lecture to the foolish woman and to that scamp of a tout. He told the woman she was old enough to be the mother of the man she had just married, that possibly her years might warrant her being his grandmother. He added that if she had a grain of sense she should have known that the tout did not marry her for love or affection, but simply because he wanted to get control of her boy, and that just as soon as the boy's earning capacity waned, just so soon would the scoundrel desert her. He pointed out that every dollar the jockey carned would go into the capacious maw of the tout. He told the tout he never would get a penny of that boy's earnings.

"Then he added something that brought white into the tou's checks. He fold him that several times he had considered the advisability of having him ruicd off, and that this last act of his was the one that sealed his fate; that never again so long as he, the judge, was a race track official, would the tout be permitted on the grounds of any race course over which he had jurisdiction. To the tout this was like a sentence of imprisonment for life. He begged for forgiveness, promised to be good; promised to do anything the judge asked. But the judge ordered him out of the room, together with his foolish wife.

"It is twelve years since this happened. For five years that judge collected the earn disputes.

"The real judge has to straighten out kinks and deal out justice in many odd affairs. He has witnesses before him in this case and that case. He examines into charges that are really based on crookedness and charges that have but a suspicion of fraud, just as does the district attorney into cases that are brought before him to ascertain whether the guilt is moral or legal and whether a prosecution must follow or a postponement of action until a later date. Few race-goers know how much the indee has to say and how much the judge has to say and how much the judge has to do at a race track, especially the race track beyond the metropolitan district, and no one knows with what relief he usually mounts the stairs in the judges' stand,"

MONTREAL PROGRAM BOOK ISSUED.

Montreal, Que., May 25.—The book for the spring meeting of the Montreal Jockey Club from Saturday, June 1, to Saturday, June 11, at Blue Bonnets, has made its appearance. The book this season is looked on generally by horsemen as the best that has ever been compiled by this club. It is most liberal in the way of handicaps, some of which have $700 in added money, while others have $600. There are only four races for Canadian-bred horses out of the forty-nine to be run at the meeting. The two-year-olds have been well looked after, as ten traces of this description are booked. There will be a steeplechase every afternoon, the majority of them worth $600. That there will be plenty of racing material is shown by the following applications which have been received for stabling: Charles Howland, S; W. Garth, 20; F. J. Pons, 16; W. C. Wilson, 5; Thomas Clyde, 35; W. Hogan, 12; W. G. King-Dodds, 4; James McLaughlin, 12; D. Cornell, 3; A. Garson, 7; C. A. Crew, 5; E. George, 7; P. J. Miles, 6; W. Shields, 12; S. HILDRETH RE-PURCHASES FITZ HERBERT.

HILDRETH RE-PURCHASES FITZ HERBERT.

New York, May 25,—Fitz Herbert is back in the stable of S. C. Hildreth, When he was sold to J. E. Madden for $35,000 and $5,000 out of his first winnings last winter, some did not believe that the sale was bona fide. Last night Mr. Hildreth took him back and stated that he had paid Mr. Madden $10,000 for his bargain. There are some other contingencies, but Fitz Herbert will race for Mr. Hildreth during the season.

Jockey Butwell was fined $25 for dismounting from Sir John Johnson in the first race without first saluting Judge Fitzgerald.

ENGLISH RACING POSTPONED FOR A TIME.

King Edward's Death Leads to Aband Racing Until May 23-Grand Prix Horses.

London, May 14.—The universally deplored death of King Edward led to the immediate abandonment of racing throughout Great Britain and Ireland. For a time it was thought there were solid reasons why it would be expedient to make an exception in the case of the Manchester meeting, but its managers finally decided to meet the heavy loss involved and declared the meeting off. So there will be a total effacing of the sport until after the burial of the king, its resumption being set for Monday, May 23, at Lingfield Park. The Epsom Derby, the Oaks and the other big events of the Epsom Derby, the Oaks and the other big events of the Epsom Summer Meeting, and a fortnight later on will bring on "Royal Ascot," with its great stakes, but lacking its usual gayety and fashionable display, because of the necessary somber colors of mourning that will be substituted for the customary show of all that wealth and lavish outlay can produce in the way of rich feminine costuming.

The announcement of the names of horses left in the Grand Prix de Paris after the declaration of forfeit is always particularly instructive, inasmuch as it may be taken as an expression of opinion on the part of owners as to the esteem in which they hold their representatives. Horses trained in England still eligible to run for the great French race include Tressady, Charles O'Malley, Lemberg, King Midas, Admiral Hawke, Montreal, Nankeen, Bronjano, Ulster King, Witchwork, Whisk Broom, New Castle and a few others not so well known, and amongst this lot something should be found capable of once more winning the event for the old country.

Naturally, the turf newspapers have devoted much of once more winning the event to. The try.

Naturally, the turf newspapers have devoted much space to King Edward's long career as an ardent turfman, and many interesting features have been developed. He was immensely popular with and beloved by racing people of all ranks, and it is doubtful if any other class felt his loss more poignantly. As to the effect of his death upon the sport itself, it can be said that the Earl of Lonsdale fairly expressed the opinion of the leading turfmen when he said:

antly. As to the effect of his death upon the sport itself, it can be said that the Earl of Lonsdale fairly expressed the opinion of the leading turfmen when he said:

"I do not think that the death of His Majesty King Edward will affect the turf in any way beyond the feelings of the greatest possible grief at the loss of so staunch a supporter and so magnificent a sportsman, whose colors were always welcome, not only as king of England, but as one of the truest and best sportsmen in existence, and whose natural high-minded and straightforward views on all subjects appertaining to the turf were obviously a magnificent example to all those connected with it. And deeply as we regret the terrible loss of so able a man, so true a sportsman, and so great a king, yet, as I have said, except for the terrible sorrow at his untimely death, which will be caused in the hearts of all Englishmen, the British turf will not. I think, be affected, and we hope that his high-minded and sporting example will be followed by his son, King George V., than whom there is no higher, or more justly, minded sportsman."

An interesting recapitulation of the racing career of King Edward, year by year, since his first venture as Prince of Wales in 1886, gives the following list of winning horses and their earnings:

"And what is the value of your horse?" asked the prince.

"About five hundred pounds, your royal highness."
The prince nodded.
"A poor purse for such a treasure," he said.
"You are taking the same risk as the man who sends a fortune by post and forgets to lick the flap of the envelope."
"But my horse is a certainty, sir," protested the young man.
The prince smiled and pointed to the line of gesticulating bookmakers.
"Those gentlemen have grown rich on "certainties," he said. So much the crestfallen plunger admitted later, when his "certainty" finished a bad third.

BROOKLYN HANDICAP DAY NEAR AT HAND.

admitted later, when his "certainty" finished a bad third.

In connection with the death of the king a singular coincidence has been noted. On Friday afternoon his majesty's horse, Witch of the Air, won the Kempton Spring Plate at a moment when its royal owner lay on the brink of death in London. As events turned out, in effect his majesty had raced successfully on his dying day. So also was it with Queen Anne two centuries ago. On July 30, 1714, when the queen was seized with her last illness, one of her horses, mamed Star, won the York Plate, Express riders were dispatched with all speed to her majesty's bedside with the tidings, but the queen lay unconscious, a state from which she never recovered. The late king was more favored by fortune. Witch of the Air carried King Edward's colors for the last time past the post early in the day, and, as his majesty did not lose consmisses until many hours later, he heard that the popular purple and gold had been carried to victory amid ringing cheers.

WEALTHY MEXICANS INTERESTED.

Monterey, Mex., May 25.—The syndicate of Mexicans organized to construct and operate a race track on the outskirts of Monterey at a cost of $500,000 embraces in its membership some of the wealthiest men in northern Mexico and includes Joaquin Matz, Victor Rivero, Fernando Ancira, Pablo Burchard, Mariano Hernandez, Constantino de Farnava, Emilio Hellion, L. F. Poston, Juan Burchard, Rodolfo Garcia, Patricio V. Milmo, F. de Marmoi, Santiago Belden, Jose A. Trevino and Francisco Cirilo. The state government has granted a liberal concession for the proposed enterprise. It is announced that General Geronimo Trevino, the governor of the state, is strongly in favor of racing. He is the owner of a large horse ranch and he believes that racing encourages the improving of the breed of the animals. The racing plant will be modern in every respect. The contract for the construction of the one mile track and fine necessary buildings will be let as soon as the plans can be drawn and approved. The concession for racing also includes the bookmaking privilege. It is planned to have the plant ready for operation in about six months. The members of the syndicate represent a capital of several million dollars.

HIGH OPINION OF FITZ HERBERT.

"You have the greatest race horse in the world in Fitz Herbert," said George F. Johnson to John E. Madden after that horse's recent victory at Belmont Park. "I have been on the turf for many years, but I never saw Fitz Herbert's superior, combining speed, gameness and ability to carry weight and go a distance." Madden holds a similar opinion and thinks that, barring accidents, the son of Ethelbert will go through the present season without suffering a defeat. "Only the hardest kind of racing luck can beat him," is the way Madden puts it. Fitz Herbert, when his racing days are over, will be sent to Hamburg Place.

The Brooklyn Handicap will be run Tuesday afternoon. Time was, not so many years back, either, when its decision would have been awaited with intense interest throughout the turf world. But the untoward occurrences of recent years have shorn the Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps of much of their standing, although they are still vested with a good measure of their old-time fascination, especially for New Yorkers. This year the guaranteed $6.000 value of the Brooklyn contrasts illy with its former $29,000, but owners have grown accustomed to accepting small favors thankfully, and it is quite probable that the Brooklyn field of 1910 will rank favorably with those of preceding years.

Although there has been but little in the way of preliminary announcement, from what has gone on in racing so far it seems probable that the following good horses may go to the post:

Trials will be frequent between now and Monday, and they will have much to do with determining the number of starters that will contend in the running of the twenty-fourth Brooklyn Handicap.

WELL WISHES FOR KING GEORGE.

Coincident with the amnouncement that King George V. will extend to the sport of the turf the same patronage and interest bestowed by his revered father, came the opening of the racing season in Canada, marked by the first coitest for the guineas of the third monarch that has contributed annually to the maintenance of the sport in this province. The history of the King's Plate extends back to the year 1860, when the gift was first made by Queen Victoria, and without interruption has continued to this day. Queen Victoria herself regularly attended in state the Ascot, Goodwood and Windsor races and maintained at Sandringham a breeding establishment from which came some of the most famous and successful of English thoroughbreds. King Edward VII. carried that on and in addition set up a racing stable which met with no small share of success. To have three times won the Derby is an honor that few owners have accomplished, but King Edward was one of the few, and but a year ago the world was celebrating his last success in that great race when Minoru won at Epsom. That King George's colors will meet with equal favoring fortune is much to expect, but it will not be too much for his loyal subjects to hope for. There is no royal road to success on the turf, where the democracy of equality sets all men and horses on the same footing—"let the best win"—but his majesty has a splendid start in the foundation laid by his father's proven stock. His adherence in this particular to the traditions of the throne of England will no doubt be approved by eight out of ten of his subjects, for there is no part of that empire on which the sum never sets that is not devoted to racing as a great popular sport.—Toronto Globe.
